

SPECIALIZED ON-BOARD COURIER SERVICES

For 25 years, Quick International Courier has been expertly moving critical, valuable and lifesaving shipments around the world with the greatest care and reliability. That's because at Quick, we literally do whatever it takes to get your shipment wherever it is going – even offering a specialized on-board courier solution.

Quick's on-board courier services are designed especially for items that are under an urgent deadline such as a part that is vital to getting an assembly line back up and running, or shipments that can be life critical including organs or bone marrow for transplant. Depending on the size and weight, packages are not checked as baggage, but hand carried and delivered directly to your recipient – making this unique solution also ideal for high value, temperature sensitive or extremely confidential shipments ranging from original legal documents, to research specimens, to jewelry and more. Specifically, Quick offers you:

- > Door-to-door pick up and delivery 365 days a year
- > Pick up usually within 60 minutes – anywhere in the world and at any time
- > Same day domestic service and next day delivery to most international locations
- > The highest level of security and reliability by personally accompanying your shipment throughout transit
- > Automatic proof of delivery via the web, as well as by phone, fax or email
- > 24-hour customer service, 365 days a year
- > Real-time tracking and tracing from pick-up through delivery via the web

Since your packages are personally escorted and hand delivered, you can expect expedited customs clearance, even after hours or on weekends and holidays. The risk of any slow down is also virtually eliminated since your dedicated courier can simply walk your shipment onto another flight in the event of an airline-specific delay. And because Quick has a far-reaching global network, our on-board courier services can be combined with any one of our best-in-class transportation solutions – from next available flight out, to next available drive out, to aircraft charter management and more – to make absolutely sure your delivery is made on or ahead of schedule.

Quick has been delivering fast, reliable critical shipping solutions to industries and businesses all around the world since 1981. With the unmatched chain of custody provided by our on-board courier services, you are assured of knowing that your package is never out-of-hand – offering you the highest possible level of security and reliability in the industry. Plus, our exclusive QuickOnline service gives you even greater peace of mind, enabling you to track, trace, monitor and confirm every move of your shipments yourself – right from your desktop.

From data transportation, to high tech and aviation industries, to legal firms and the entertainment industry, to life sciences and the medical community and more... our mission is to handle all your time-critical deliveries with the utmost speed and care.
